United Kingdom and Eire Spoken in Will Meet

EFFORT WILL BE MADE FOR DISPUTE END

Economic War Over Land Annuities and Defence Are Parley Topics

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON, Jan. 12.—Downing street Monday afternoon representatives of the governments of the United Kingdom and Eire (formerly the Irish Free state) met to discuss a table in a businesslike effort to end their differences.

Delegates for the United Kingdom will be Prime Minister Chamberlain, Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Samuel Hoare, home secretary, and Malcolm MacDonald, minister of agriculture.

Several agenda have been drawn up but the subjects most in view are: 1. Settlement of the long drawn out economic war over land annuities; and 2. Defence.

The question of partition may also be discussed. The new constitution of Eire, while not specially hostile to the British, has been interpreted as a move to consider the new constitution applicable to the northern Ireland, content to leave the matter there.

It is understood, is there any intention of discussing the question of diplomatic representation abroad. This problem arose recently when Mr. De Valera appeared in Rome, accredited to the King of Italy as Emperor of Ethiopia.

The discussions are expected to be rather development of the series of talks which Mr. De Valera and Malcolm MacDonald have had on various occasions when the opportunity arose.

Although the meeting begins tomorrow afternoon, the agenda plan to be open with a preliminary discussion of economic war, then to come down to agreed particular issues. If the opening discussions promise a hope of settlement, the talks will be continued.

COAL AND CATTLE

Apart from Monday's discussions, the two governments are now negotiating the continuance of the coal-cattle agreement.

The agreement permits the export of coal from the United Kingdom to Eire in return for imports of cattle from Eire on a pound value basis. This operation has tended to offset the effect of the economic "war" over land annuities.

Sir Thomas Inskip, minister for the co-ordination of defence, will join in the Downing street discussion when the question of defence is brought up.

Oliver Stansfeld, president of the Board of Trade, and Sir James Macpherson, minister of agriculture, will be present when the conversations touch on trade matters.

Eire To Take Britain's Coal

Following talks between J. W. De Valera, Irish head of state, in London, and Board of Trade, it was announced in Downing street, Jan. 12, that Eire will supply 314,000 tons of coal in return for the United Kingdom supplying all but 1,000 tons.

This was interpreted as virtual assurance of the coal-cattle agreement between the two countries, signed between the two countries in 1935, would be renewed a second time.

COMPENSATE BRITAIN

The so-called economic war between Britain and Ireland has been in progress since 1932 when the Free State government discontinued the land annuity payments to the British exchequer called for by the Government of Ireland Act of 1920.

The payments, provided by the Irish government, were for the use of the Free State in being, were to be made in the form of a sum paid to the Free State in return for the Free State's agreement to supply all but 1,000 tons of coal in return for the United Kingdom supplying all but 1,000 tons.

This was interpreted as virtual assurance of the coal-cattle agreement between the two countries, signed between the two countries in 1935, would be renewed a second time.

JAPS LAUNCH INLAND DRIVE FOR SHANTUNG

First Army Forces At Tsingtao Pushing Along Railway

SHANGHAI, Jan. 12.—Japanese launched an inland drive from Tsingtao today trying to hasten conquest of rich Shantung province.

Japanese troops arriving at Tsingtao, Shantung province port, by ship from the undeveloped base and immediately began pushing westward along the Tsingtao-Tsinghai railway, expecting to effect a quick junction with Japanese forces advancing into Shantung from different bases.

These were the first army forces to reach Tsingtao, occupied by marines and Japanese forces advance.

HEAVY LOSSES

A Japanese embassy spokesman indicated China's "sacred earth" policy resulted in unusually heavy losses in Shantung, where Japanese troops suffered casualties of 1,000,000 yen (about $200,000,000).

He charged China with carrying out a "policy of extermination" and destroying Japanese property.

The Japanese demonstrated provincial government at Peking said the Japanese army had extended its control over Shantung as far as Japanese forces advance.

The Peking report, according to reports through a Japanese channel, was that a Japanese force of 10,000 men had taken over control of taxes in the province of 34,000,000 yen (about $7,000,000,000).

FORCES ADVANCING

Japanese forces of Tsingtao, 120 miles south of Tsingtao, said their forces were advancing along the Chekiang railway to Jiaochow, threatening to isolate the Japanese army.

Chinese also reported their troops in eastern Shantung province attacked Japanese forces along the railway, 20 miles northwest of Peking, and destroyed a Japanese train.

Two Japanese-held towns were recaptured in a counter-offensive in a Chekiang province. Chinese said Japanese were reported destroyed a Japanese train at Jiaochow, Chekiang province capital.

WOMEN, IT SEEMS, DO NOT HAVE THESE DAYS, FROM DIGGING WELLS TO PAINTING SMOKESTACKS, BUT IT REMAINED FOR KOTING TO FIND ONE TRICK SHE CLAIMS NO WOMAN HAS EVER DONE—HANGING BY HER CHIN ON A SHARP SWORD. PROBABLY KOTING IS RIGHT. SHE ALSO CLIMBS BARBED WIRE, AND DRIVES A TRUCK. SHE IS A LADY OF TEMPERED BLOOD, REVERES ON BROKEN GLASS AND PIERCES THE BODY WITHOUT DRAWING BLOOD. OBSERVE, ABOVE, THE WORLD'S ONLY WOMAN PAPER, PERFORMING BEFORE A LONDON AUDIENCE.

GARNET MUST NOT BE GRADED NO. 3 NORTHERN

Expert Opinion Concerning Wheat Quality Indisputably Correct
Garnet wheat may be grown by northern farmers who find it profitable, but it should not be graded with No. 3 northern, Dr. A. W. Neale, of the University of Alberta, told the seed fair Wednesday afternoon in the Alexander Hotel.

Recalling the stir around last fall by opinions of University of Alberta professors about Garnet, Dr. Neale said that many farmers had since admitted that that opinion concerning the quality of Garnet was correct.

"We cannot help it if some people fail to understand what we mean," he stressed, indisputably correct, was correct.

PROCEDURE NECESSARY
Explaining that agricultural experts of the university staff never hesitated to speak up and advise what they have put the wheat in at least five years of severe tests, Dr. Neale said that the procedure is made necessary by variations in farm yields.

The farm actually on the farm has to make up his own mind as to what wheat can be grown most profitably, but he must know the opinion of the university staff to advise him what it might be wise not to do, he said.

What that might be said to the Northern and limited fields would be useless or unsatisfactory in the long run, he said. He pointed out in depressing picture given to certain Manitoba grains that have recently appeared on the market and attracted attention of Alberta farmers.

PURPOSE OF GRADING
Purpose of grading, he continued, was to let the consumer what sort of product he is buying.

"It is for that reason that I suggest, last time, that the university recommended wheat, now, you are told from No. 3 northern, that it does not fulfill the pre-conditions of grading inasmuch as the buyer thinks he is getting No. 3 northern," he said.

Some farmers argue there is a market for Garnet and that it is a good idea to grow it. But, he said, if the purchaser wants Garnet, let him have it by all means, but let him know that it is Garnet and not something else that he is obtaining.

WORK OF FAIRS LAUDED
Lauding the work of seed fairs, Dr. Neale said that the University of Alberta had been the standard of Alberta grains and acted as a school where leading farmers, including his own, had received a great deal of education.

He said that the results of the Alberta fairs in the Toronto fair would be attributable to the work of these annual shows.

THE Calgary Rangers are undoubtedly breathing a little easier today than they have for many weeks. They finally met the inevitable defeat last night at the hands of the Buffalo Bulls. It was only their first loss of the season—10 wins and three draws in 13 games they evaluated. The Rangers know as well as anyone else that sooner or later they were determined to run their winning streak just as far as they could stretch it.

While playing under circumstances that developed a bad case of heartbreak—loss of seven points on three games, plus their own exceptional defense and generally good play—their win streak ended. The Rangers know as well as anyone else that sooner or later they were determined to run their winning streak just as far as they could stretch it.

Tony Savage Sparks Elk Herd

THE time has come when employment must be paid to Gordon Donald Savage, coach of the Elk. He has turned a winning looking team into a club that is now the second place in the Big Six League and is just as likely as not to go the distance of the season. He has done a superb job of coaching.

It is not impossible that Tony Savage has the long last night after his Elk has rested the Rangers, but when he wins he turns something around and goes to the top of the league. He has done a superb job of coaching.

Feather Champion Puts Venturi Away In Typical Manner

Venturi Drops in Agony in Sixth But Doctor States no Foul Blow Made by Los Angeles Negro

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Henry Armstrong, world's featherweight champion, raising the ranks of the lightweight, last night knocked out Enrico Venturi, European lightweight champion, in the sixth round of their 10-round bout before 12,000 fans in Madison Square Garden. Armstrong weighed 134½ lbs.; Venturi 137½.

Venturi, writhing in apparent agony, fell to the canvas following a vicious left to the lower body. Under the "no foul" rule of the New York State Athletic Commission, there was nothing for Referee Arthur Donovan to do but begin a count. Venturi, his face distorted with pain, remained on his back while the count went on.

Venturi leaped nimbly to his feet immediately after the time-keeper tolled "10," but later collapsed in his corner. It was several minutes before his handlers could get him out of the ring.

How your knees should look in running position.

28. Watch Your Knees

To sum up all I have said in my recent articles upon position of the body in skiing, it will be seen that correct position of the body depends first and foremost upon the position of the knees, which must form a hinge reacting automatically and elastically to give and take under the shock of sudden unbalancing strains.

Soles and heels should be flat upon the skis, except in the telemark position, when the heel of the rear foot is lifted. The trunk must be held as straight as possible, the arms slightly forward and hanging loosely in the shoulder sockets, to provide in effect a counter weight.

Knees and ankles are bent as best suits the peculiar circumstances under which you are skiing. It is therefore the position that makes for best skiing.

Legumes Fine Soil Improver

MIXTURES FOR FEEDING CROP ARE OUTLINED

Dean L. E. Kirk Addresses Saskatchewan Field Husbandry Association

SASKATOON, Jan. 13.—Value of legumes as feed crops and for the improvement of soil was stressed here Wednesday by Dean L. E. Kirk, of the College of Agriculture, University of Saskatchewan, in an address at the Saskatchewan Field Husbandry Association convention.

Dean Kirk outlined experiments conducted under his supervision to show that grasses and legumes were complementary, and that feeding a mixture of the two produced the best results. The legume took food from the soil, he said, and fed it to the grass.

RESULTS ENCOURAGING
Pasture plots at Ottawa had shown that when grasses were sown with wild white clover seed, the result was encouraging. Three times as much herbage had been taken from experimental pasture plots where the two plants were sown, the said.

A LITTLE ALFALFA
"Sow a little alfalfa with your grass," Dean Kirk told the meeting.

The speaker told of experiments here with alfalfa, in which Dr. T. M. Smith, of the University of Saskatchewan, had produced a strain of alfalfa which was good for pasture, and which would produce seed. On the grassy-wooded area, experiments in Alberta had shown that the use of super-phosphate fertilizer would double grain yields. With the use of fertilizer and sweet clover, the next year's crop of grain could be redoubled.

Sound Farming

Recovery Plan

SASKATOON, Jan. 13.—Re-establishing agriculture on a sound financial basis was the most effective means of economic recovery in Canada, asserted C. Mitchell, of the Saskatchewan Field Husbandry Association, at the annual meeting of that organization here Wednesday.

By legislative means, through grants and with other aids, agriculture could be re-established in such a manner that every other industry in the country would benefit, the president believed. Moreover, the relief would be a lasting one, and the unemployment situation could be alleviated, he said.

Belief that southern Saskatchewan would "come back" was expressed by Mr. Mitchell, who said Saskatchewan had contributed in the past to the development of the province and in the future it would continue to do so, Mr. Mitchell said. He believed that future crises would not be so intense in Saskatchewan as the present one. The work of the prairie farm rehabilitation program would ensure lasting benefits.

JAPAN WILL RECOGNIZE NEW REGIME

TOKYO, Jan. 13.—Japan was reported Wednesday to have decided to recognize as the legitimate government of China the new regime established in Peking under the Japanese army's aid.

Foreign observers said they believed this was the action taken at Tuesday's conference, presided over by Emperor Hirohito, of high government, army and navy officials.

Kakuma Kasami, chief secretary of the cabinet, was drafting a statement on the conference which a foreign office spokesman said may not be issued for several days.

Chinese officers formed the Peking provincial government on December 14, restored China's old five-barred flag and changed the name of Peking to Peking.

British Indian opposition to the Chiang Kai-shek government, suppression of Communism and co-operation with the United States, Mr. Kasami said.

MAN IN LOVE WITH DAUGHTER KILLS HIMSELF

Finds Out Too Late His Relationship in Strange Story

SCOTTSIDE, Pa. Jan. 12.—Westmoreland county coroner, Dr. H. McMurtry, said last night a 47-year-old Scottside woman killed her daughter, with whom he had fallen in love, unaware of their relationship, then killed himself.

Lying side by side, the bodies of Nelson Meese and his 17-year-old daughter Nellie were found today in the living room of the girl's home.

Rich had been about in the head with a home-made pistol. Dr. McMurtry listed the deaths as murder and suicide.

Rich, 47-year-old woman, Pearl Hollis, 38-year-old woman, progress administration sewing project worker, found the bodies when she returned from work.

Dr. McMurtry said two letters in the girl's purse led him to believe Meese had fallen in love with his daughter, whom he had not seen since her birth. Then, he said, Meese evidently found out their relationship.

The letter dated December 31 said:

"It is going to be hard for me to leave you now. You may not believe this, but you are the only person I ever saw that I really liked and you turn out to be my own daughter."

CALGARY, Jan. 13.—More than 100 electrical engineers and other radio amateurs met here Wednesday to discuss the subject of radio interference.

Representatives from the four western provinces will attend the parley, with Jefferson hovering gingerly over them, and Clesly leaning in the doorway from time to time.

Linda went to the piano and sang for them. "The Little Jesus"—"Silent Night"—"O Little Town of Bethlehem," and because of Miranda asked for "I Drink to My Only With Thine Eyes."

So Barry had to tell her favorite story about how, years ago, he had been in a bar and had been hit by an underground to the top of the bar.

Then the Christmas tree had to be trimmed, with Linda handing out to Barry on the step-ladder. The old Miranda being very mysterious about the duties of a piano-decked parcel she produced.

They had supper in the drawing room, with the double doors into the front parlor thrown open so that Barry could see the daily miracle. "Don't miss the morning paper, Lydia."

"Well," Barry laughed, "as a matter of fact, that plane dropping my lap just as it was scrambling above and trying to shake the Caribbean out of my ears and shore. The pilot, who was the manager of a chain of German ferry plantations, noticed my ship in the waves, and came down to reconnoiter."

"As I don't speak much German and his English wasn't any too fluent, it wasn't easy to make him see just how badly I needed his aid. I dropped him at one of his plantations, refueled and kicked up with provisions, and hoped along. Fortunately the plane had a radio."

"Oh, yes," the announcer cut in. "I have been your signals that amateur in Texas was picking up."

"Probably not," Barry said. "I had some talk with someone up there after I stumbled on the Aurelius while, while we were trying to grab out a clearing for head to tail off from."

"Barry was obviously very tired, and they finally let him down. When it was over, old Miranda had her nose vigorously rubbed three times before she said, 'Well, I suppose we'd better go to bed. I'm getting a little Christmas tree set up after tomorrow.'"

"We're going to be busy for hours. Then they sat, just talking. When they finally fell asleep, they went up to go to bed. Old Miranda said, 'I'm not going to bed. I'm going to stay in my one sin. Do you know, I'd almost forgotten how useful it is to have another woman around. You can't really—let—let—let your hair, I believe, is the modern idiom—with a man. The modern idiom—let your hair to let down.'"

Barry's broadcast proved a real nuisance in the end. The airport and several friends had called to deliver his message almost before the radio was turned off.

Next day they were flooded with letters. Barry said that old Miranda was one of the first.

"Well," she said to Linda, "you and Barry have given this town a surprise. Of course, I guessed there was something in the air."

Why, almost two weeks ago it had been heard. "To think of your harboring a romance like that and then turning out to be a fake!" Barry had given this town a surprise. Of course, I guessed there was something in the air."

But if Miranda Trent was disappointed by the implication her face was inscrutable.

"After all," she said tartly, "I'm just a girl. My wife thought it better not to make any announcement until he returns. I fail to see why the whole town should be concerned."

She smiled at him. "I don't think you have heard. To think of your harboring a romance like that and then turning out to be a fake!" Barry had given this town a surprise. Of course, I guessed there was something in the air."

Finds Out Too Late His Relationship in Strange Story

SCOTTSIDE, Pa. Jan. 12.—Westmoreland county coroner, Dr. H. McMurtry, said last night a 47-year-old Scottside woman killed her daughter, with whom he had fallen in love, unaware of their relationship, then killed himself.

Lying side by side, the bodies of Nelson Meese and his 17-year-old daughter Nellie were found today in the living room of the girl's home.

Rich had been about in the head with a home-made pistol. Dr. McMurtry listed the deaths as murder and suicide.

Rich, 47-year-old woman, Pearl Hollis, 38-year-old woman, progress administration sewing project worker, found the bodies when she returned from work.

Dr. McMurtry said two letters in the girl's purse led him to believe Meese had fallen in love with his daughter, whom he had not seen since her birth. Then, he said, Meese evidently found out their relationship.

The letter dated December 31 said:

"It is going to be hard for me to leave you now. You may not believe this, but you are the only person I ever saw that I really liked and you turn out to be my own daughter."

HOPES EXIST FOR CONTROL OF PARALYSIS

PALO ALTO, Calif., Jan. 13.—Hope that "practical measures for control of poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis) will soon be available" was held out today by Dr. E. W. Schultz, Stanford University professor of bacteriology.

Dr. Schultz, stating "enough is known now to justify such hope," said he and Dr. L. F. Good, his associate, were awaiting the next outbreak of poliomyelitis to make a decisive test in their experiments in the use of size sulphate as a preventive against infection.

DRUNK DRIVERS SPECIAL TARGETS TORONTO COPS

TORONTO, Jan. 12.—In future, traffic act violations in Ontario which justify court proceedings "the prosecution shall be vigorous and the sentence adequate to the offense," according to Hon. G. D. Côté, attorney-general.

The motorcycle patrol force of the provincial police will be increased substantially. Crown attorneys have been instructed that intoxicated or reckless drivers shall be the particular target.

TROUSERS WERE WORTH DIGGING OUT OF DEBRIS

MONTREAL, Jan. 13.—Those trousers, Benny Skovranek said Wednesday, were worth it.

When fire broke out in his home, Benny left in such a hurry he forgot his pants. Wednesday he huddled away and recovered the trousers—along with the $160 in the pockets.
